

Sirs:

The ARRL has quite a bit to say regarding Power Line Communication
See attached website:

<http://www.arrl.org/tis/info/HTML/plc/>

Does the ARRL have valid points?

What is the FCCs rebuttal to the ARRL?

As a Shortwave listener and Ham Radio Operator,
how will this affect me?

Assuming that I live near high voltage distribution lines, will the money that I invested in my radio hobbies be wasted due to interference?

I await your response,

Respectfully,
